PAR CIE is a new online listing service designed specifically for the commercial real estate professionals throughout Pennsylvania.

Representatives will be on hand to demo the product and answer any of your questions. This session will show you how to enter your current listings, either as a GUEST or a MEMBER to better serve your clients, locally and nationally.

Data entered into PAR CIE is owned and controlled by its members, not public corporations looking to satisfy shareholders. You get to decide where your information is displayed and who has access. Enter once and distribute your information to 15 or more distribution sites, including CommercialSource.com, Google, CommercialIQ.com and many other commercial real estate online databases. We also let you export it to send anywhere you like. After all, it is your data.

Pre-registration required; space is limited.

Keep Clients Updated with the Online Activity Report

As a member, you can send your client a report of online activity. The marketing report shows clients where their listings are displaying online and includes the number of views the property has received on each site. Market Monitor keeps you informed to changes in your market with an hourly, daily, and weekly activity summary, including changes in saved searches, catalogs, and activity based on your listings.

Send Broadcast Email

Communicate with brokers, owners, users and investors in your market, letting them know about current needs or existing inventory. Receive alerts for properties that match your specifications.
